9 University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and graduated in 1971; and 10 Whereas, Jim Fulghum completed an internship and residency in neurosurgery at 11 Duke Medical Center, during which time he served as a member of the National Guard 12 Reserves; and

13 Whereas, Jim Fulghum was a neurosurgeon for 35 years, practicing with the Raleigh 14 Neurosurgical Clinic, Triangle Spine and Back Care Center, and Carolina Rehabilitation and 15 Surgical Associates and, during the early 1980s, serving as Chief of Surgery at Wake Medical 16 Center; and

17 Whereas, Jim Fulghum served his profession as a member of the American 18 Association of Neurological Surgeons, the Royster Medical Society, the Raleigh Academy of 19 Medicine, and the North Carolina Medical Society; and

20 Whereas, Jim Fulghum served his country as a member of the United States Army 21 Reserves for 18 years, which included his service as an active duty field neurosurgeon in Saudi 22 Arabia near the Iraqi border as part of Operation Desert Storm during the early 1990s, and 23 retired from duty with the rank of Major; and 24 Whereas, Jim Fulghum served with honor and distinction in the House of 25 Representatives during the 2013 General Assembly, where he focused on issues relating to 26 healthcare and served on committees that included: Appropriations Subcommittee on Health 27 and Human Services; Commerce and Job Development Subcommittee on Biotechnology and 28 Healthcare; Health and Human Services; Regulatory Reform; and Insurance as vice-chair; and
